PG DIPLOMA IN EDUCATION

COURSE BROCHURE (2026-27)

INTRODUCTION

We offer an online PG Diploma in Education that covers concepts on educational psychology and educational research to enhance students' knowledge and skills for career advancement. The course modules cover the sociological foundations of education; interpreting different kinds of personalities, teaching pedagogy, and coping techniques to be adaptive to a vast educational landscape. This curriculum is segmented into two semesters with a blended approach to teaching paradigm, and research methodology with technology and tools for professional development.

MISSION:

- To provide both theoretical and practical knowledge, equipping individuals with the skills and understanding necessary to be effective teachers and researchers.
- To build candidates' specialization in education with technical, leadership, and management expertise to improve students' learning.

OBJECTIVES:

- To make students aware of the trending courses that equip advanced skills and contribute to their role shaping the future of their disciples.
- To encourage students to build assessment skills, evaluation of psychological, philosophical, and sociological impact to strategize students' learning.
